

Interactive comment on “An ocean modelling and assimilation guide to using GOCE geoid products” by K. Haines et al.

K. Haines et al.

k.haines@reading.ac.uk

Received and published: 3 February 2011

Reference to the new GRACE geoid products with error covariances are now made in the paper although one should hesitate to say that the accuracy is better than the sea level data at a 200km scale. The readme information eg on the Bonn product, states clearly that the errors are only formal estimates and will not reflect the true accuracy of the fields yet Interactive comment on Ocean Sci. Discuss., 7, 1849, 2010.