

Interactive comment on “Contribution of the Black Sea observing system to ECOOP” by G. K. Korotaev et al.

Anonymous Referee #2

Received and published: 22 August 2011

I agree with the previous comment, that the paper serves fine as an introductory lecture to the observations systems in the Black Sea, but fails to live up to the standards of a scientific paper. The results presented in the paper are well known and does not provide any new information to the reader.

Interactive comment on Ocean Sci. Discuss., 8, 1695, 2011.