The attached file includes:

- the second review by referee # 1
- a review of the paper by myself.

Referee #1 raises an important issue. My review suggests how you should respond to it.

I also request that you review your abstract as it does not summarise the results from the paper very well.

My review and the second review by referee # 2 include a fairly large number of requests for improvements in the clarity of the text.

You should be able to respond to these requests relatively easily. Assuming you do I will be happy to accept the paper for publication.
